ARMENIA ENERGY MINISTER RESIGNS

19.01.2018

Panarmenian (18 January 2018)

The Armenian minister of energy infrastructure and natural resources Ashot Manukyan has resigned.

In a conversation with PanARMENIAN.Net ministry spokesman Vasak Tarposhyan confirmed that Manukyan has indeed submitted a resignation letter, but failed to provide more details.

Manukyan was appointed to the post in September 2016, having earlier served as CEO at Energoinvest Holding.
