Georgia Today (31 May 2018)

Mutual cooperation in various fields and regional developments were the key issues discussed by Georgian Foreign Minister Mikheil Janelidze and his Armenian counterpart, Zohrab Mnatsakanyan.

The ministers spoke about a broad spectrum of co-operation between Georgia and Armenia, reaffirming the need to further develop the friendly and good-neighborly relations between the two countries and to implement a series of agreements reached within the scope of their ministries.

The sides spoke about sectoral and regional co-operation with a focus on prospects for deepening relations in the areas of transport, infrastructure and energy.

The importance of preparing to conduct a meeting of the Georgia-Armenia inter-governmental commission was also highlighted.

Zohrab Mnatsakanyan arrived in Georgia as part of the visit of the Armenian delegation led by the newly-elected Prime Minister Nikol Pashinyan.
