Iraq is set to begin issuing two-month visas on arrival for visitors from at least 35 countries, according to a new order issued by the Iraqi government.

The new rules will come into force on 15 March, with visitors from various countries able to pick up a visa on arrival for an unspecified fee.

Among the countries included in the new visa rules are the US, UK, France, Russia, China, Germany, Spain, Ireland, Greece, Poland, Romania, Australia, Canada, South Korea and Japan.
