Armenias Minister of Education, Science, Culture and Sport Vahram Dumanyan held an online talk today with Iranian Minister of Science, Research and Technology Mohammad Ali Zolfigol, the Armenian ministry said in a news release.

Minister Dumanyan in his remarks expressed hope that his upcoming meeting with his Iranian counterpart will already take place offline. The minister said that Armenia and Iran will celebrate the 30th anniversary of the establishment of the diplomatic relations in two days, which, according to him, is a good occasion to raise the existing cooperation to a higher level.
