Baku on Monday deplored the groundless anti-Azerbaijani claims made by French Ambassador to Yerevan Olivier Decottignies in his interview with the Public Radio of Armenia.

"Questioning by the French Ambassador Olivier Decottignies of the legitimate measures by Azerbaijan to end the occupation of our territories and the separatism, accusing Azerbaijan in occupation of Armenias territories, encouraging Armenias militarization, false references to the decisions of the International Court of Justice, statements supporting Armenias incomplete peace ideas, and several other ridiculous approaches first and foremost demonstrates how the French side distorts the realities and is not interested in sustainable and tangible peacebuilding in the region," the Azerbaijani Foreign Ministry spokesman, Aykhan Hajizada, said in a statement, News.Az reports.

The spokesman stressed that the statements by the French Ambassador attest to the true nature of the intention and policy pursued by the country he represents, both during the conflict and post-conflict periods.
