MassisPost (7 May 2026)

Poland and Armenia have agreed to conduct joint military exercises, Warsaw announced.

The agreement was reached during a meeting between Polish Deputy Prime Minister and Defense Minister Władysław Kosiniak-Kamysz and Armenian Defense Minister Suren Papikyan.

Countries striving for stability, security, and cooperation are partners in our dialogue. That is why we are interested in joint military exercises, cooperation between military universities, and exchanges of experience between the defense industries of Poland and Armenia, Kosiniak-Kamysz said following the talks.
