Armenian Prime Minister Nikol Pashinyan has confirmed that he will travel to Turkey on June 20.

Speaking to reporters in the National Assembly, Pashinyan said, Yes, such a plan exists. There will be a joint statement regarding the agenda of the visit. I can confirm that the visit is scheduled, and in order not to violate existing agreements, I will only share what is already public.

The visit will be made at the invitation of Turkish President Recep Tayyip Erdogan. The Armenian side had previously confirmed the trip, with National Assembly Speaker Alen Simonyan also stating that Pashinyan would visit Turkey in response to Erdogans official invitation.
