Iraqi Deputy Prime Minister and Foreign Minister Fuad Hussein said on Thursday that talks with his Swiss counterpart focused on three key issues □ water management, migration, and visa facilitation for Iraqi nationals.

Speaking at a joint press conference with the Swiss foreign minister, Hussein said meetings between Iraq and Switzerland will continue to strengthen bilateral cooperation and expand relations across various fields.

He added that the discussions covered water and energy management, noting that Switzerland has extensive expertise in these areas that Iraq could benefit from in its development projects.
