India will host top diplomats from the US, Japan, and Australia for a Quadrilateral Security Dialogue, commonly known as the Quad, meeting next week, according to an official statement.

Indias Ministry of External Affairs said Friday that, at the invitation of External Affairs Minister Subrahmanyam Jaishankar, Australian Foreign Minister Penny Wong, Japanese Foreign Minister Toshimitsu Motegi, and US Secretary of State Marco Rubio will visit New Delhi to participate in the Quad meeting on May 26.

In keeping with the Quad vision for a free and open Indo-Pacific, the ministers will build on discussions held in Washington on July 1, 2025, the ministry said in a statement.
